Dr Alok Bahl (Class of 2017)
Head International Chief Mentor at Medic Mentor

Medic Mentor is a British non-profit medical organisation run by doctors. They specialise in helping applying students, university students and practising clinicians to become successful future doctors.

The course they would like to introduce is a 12 month teaching programme, 12 full days of teaching (11 of which are virtual) and 1 in person practical skills and simulation day. Please see the attached flyer for the detailed breakdown of the course content. Throughout the program, course participants are paired with a currently working doctor as their personal mentor. The company also helps the students with their job application and continued mentorship in the first year of their job in the UK so that they are strategically prepared for their tasks.

12 month mentoring programme with a different module each month to help seamlessly integrate you working within the NHS!
